DAY 02.

Breakfast. At the scheduled time, departure for the full day excursion Argentinian Side Waterfalls: Penetrating into the Iguazú National Park that, along with the reservation, offers 55.500 hectares of exuberant subtropical vegetation, where gigantic trees, lianas and ferns live together with multicoloured butterflies, attractive birds and other specimens of the rich fauna of Misiones (Province). And, all of a sudden, proof of an excess of natural abundance: the Iguazú Waterfalls. We will begin the visit at the Interpretation Center, with its Museum of Natural Science, to continue with the low walkways where we will see the Dos Hermanas, Bosetti and Escondido falls and a panoramic view of the San Martín Island and the Unicón fall. Afterwards, we will go through the high walk path, with its footbridges that cross over several important falls until we arrive at the San Martín fall, which offers an overview of the Brazilian falls. Later, we will go to the Canoas Port where, after 1000 metres of walkways, we will access the Garganta del Diablo, where Iguazú shows all its strength and beauty. Accommodation.
